EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Sickness of One of Mr. Beecher's Witnesses.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The illness of Henry M. Cleveland has made it necessary that his testimony in Beecher's case be taken at his residence.

The Tribune on Beecher's Testimony.

NEW YORK, April 3.—The Tribune says of Beecher's manner on the witness stand: "Mr. Beecher is the most deliberate of all the witnesses thus far called. He is also the most animated, except Miss Turner, in his manner of reciting facts relative to which he is called to testify. He is involuntarily—

Prosecution for Libel.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Chas. A. Dana learning that an attachment had been issued against him from the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, surrendered to-day to the U. S. Marshal. His counsel asked for a writ of habeas corpus, citing the Marshal to appear and show cause why Dana should be released. The U. S. District Attorney asking for an adjournment, it was arranged that the hearing shall take place Tuesday next, Dana meanwhile being allowed on parole.

A Ship for California.

NEW YORK, April 2.—A thousand ton ship to be named Bohemia is building at Bath, Me., for parties in California.

Quiet in the Mines.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., April 3.—The whole mining region of Carbon county is now free of raiders, and the situation tranquil. Officers of the M. & L. B. A. are exercising and advising its members to be true to law and order, and their association.

Measures Against the Rioters.

HARRISBURG, Pa., April 3.—Gov. Hartranft to-day issued a proclamation calling on the riotous miners of Luzerne and Schuylkill counties to disperse and go home; and authorizes the sheriffs in the event of non-compliance with the order to call for aid of the military, to disperse the rioters.

Cleveland's Testimony.

NEW YORK, April 4.—If rumor is to be believed, Henry M. Cleveland testified on Friday that he was manager of the Carolian Union on June 3, 1873, and that Beecher was in the office of that paper in New York between 11 and 12 o'clock that day.

Observers of the Transit.

NEW YORK, April 4.—A London dispatch says the U. S. steamer Monocacy arrived at Hakodadi, Japan, with the Hayden party of observers of the transit of Venus.

Destructive Freshets—Four Bridges Swept Away.

NEW YORK, April 4.—A destructive freshet occurred in Walkill river yesterday, sweeping away the ice, and with it four railroad bridges. Helen's view destroyed all the bridges between Fuller's Island and Montgomery, four in number, within a distance of twelve miles. Montgomery and Walden bridges are yet in danger. The damage done cannot be replaced short of $100,000.

Fire at Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., April 4.—A fire this morning destroyed the finishing department of Cooper, Hewitt & Co.'s wire mill, causing damage to the extent of $50,000; insured.

Endeavoring to Spread the Strike.

NEW YORK, April 4.—A Pottsville, Pa., special says it is arranged that John Siney accompanies John Welsh, president Schuylkill county branches of the miners' association, to Carbon and Luzerne counties, for the purpose of strike disorganizing.

Railroad Collision—One Killed and Many Wounded.

CHICAGO, April 4.—About 12:30 this morning the Chicago express train, which left here Saturday evening and the Pacific express train, bound west, collided near Mendota, Lyron, Bowen, and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road, completely wrecking both engines and instantly killing H. La Miller, conductor of the Chicago express, Gardiner, baggage-master, and Wm. Hamilton, fireman of the Pacific express. Engineers Pugh and Streeter and McDonald, fireman, sustained serious but not fatal injuries. One of the baggage masters in the Pacific train took fire, but was quickly extinguished. Mr. Miller, postal agent on the west bound train, was seriously burned by a stove falling on him. The accident was caused by the failure of an operator to deliver train orders. No passengers seriously injured.

The Senatorial Excursion to Mexico Abandoned.

NEW ORLEANS, April 4.—The Senatorial excursion to Mexico has been abandoned. Advices from Washington, fear of the yellow fever and the illness of Mr. Morton, caused the party to be changed for this change of front. Senators Anthony, Cameron, Chandler, Dennis and Paterson and Gen. McVeigh and wife sailed on the Dispatch to-day for Cedar Keys and connecting along the Gulf coast, thence to some Atlantic port. Senator Morton is detained at the St. Charles hotel on account of the illness of Mrs. Morton, who is improving.

Yellow Fever at Key West.

KEY WEST, April 4.—We have had four cases of yellow fever here. It is not existing now. Weather cool and city healthy.

(Signed) J. N. HARRIS, Medical Health Officer.

Report of the Silk Association.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The monthly circular of the Silk Association of America reports the total value of silk manufactures published in New York for March, $3,178,895; Total imports of raw silk during four months, received at New York, 1,595 packages; via Panama, 852 packages; overland, 390 packages.

Floods in New England—Great Damage Expected.

BOSTON, April 4.—A heavy rain storm and northeast wind prevailed here and generally throughout New England during the past 24 hours. Rain is still falling, and apprehensions of serious damage by freshets are entertained. The rivers are rapidly rising, and, should the storm continue day or so, a general break of the ice will occur, and results will be disastrous.

The Penobscot river is reported four feet rising during the day. At Bellowell, at 6 P. M. it was even with the wharves and rapidly rising.

At Bend Falls, the bridge of the Maine Central Railroad was carried away by the ice jam, which rendered it impassable for the time being. A large force was engaged during the day blasting away the ice and repairing bridges. To-night it is reported safe, etc.

In Northern Maine the rain commenced falling on Friday night, continuing uninterruptedly. At Manchester, New Hampshire, the rivers were greatly swollen, the water pouring over the dam. At Amoskeag, the water is four feet deep. Several railroads are washed out, and travel is stopped to shut down caused by back-water. At the latter place the water is seven feet deeper over the falls being the highest water since the great freshet of 1869. River is still rising.

A dispatch from Concord says imminent danger is threatened to the bridges—several of them railroad bridges—between that city and Hooksett.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Newspapers Force the Secretary of the Navy to do Right.

CINCINNATI, April 5.—A Washington special says a newspaper criticism of Secretary Robeson's course in allowing a government vessel to be used in ferrying private citizens and officials for a supposed private purpose has been so great that the Secretary yesterday addressed to Senator Cameron that the newspapers had misled him, and requested the senator to take his party on a regular steamer if they still wished to continue their journey. The Secretary also says the occasion of this purpose of the trip had not transpired to him. He says it is not that it is not impossible the party will make reports of the yellow fever epidemic as an excuse for returning home.

Yellow Fever.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Rear Admiral Mullaney, commanding North Atlantic station, reports one Spanish man-of-war lying off Havana has forty cases of yellow fever, and another thirty-six cases. No cases have appeared on any United States steamers yet. The United States steamers Plymouth, Quinnebaug and Shakemuk, anchored off Key West, have been ordered on a cruise in more northern latitudes, and other vessels of the North Atlantic fleet have been ordered to make Port Royal their headquarters.

Leave of Absence Extended.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Leave of absence granted Second Lieutenant Alexander O. Brodie, first cavalry, Benicia Barracks, in special order No. 29, Headquarters, middle division of the Pacific coast, has been extended two months by the Secretary of War, and permission granted Lieutenant Brodie to go beyond.

Coinage Statistics.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The total coinage for March amounted to $5,650,330. Of this amount $1,981,960 was in double eagles, $36,000 in half dollars, $61,850 in quarter dollars, $316,020 in dimes and $753,390 in subsidiary coinage.

Important Mining Ground Decision.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—About a year ago the Commissioner of the General Land Office decided that the patent previously issued for Highland Chief mine, in Utah, covered mining ground which had been embraced in the application for said patent, and which had been fraudulently or erroneously included in the final survey. It was therefore officially recommended that the Secretary of Interior should call upon the Attorney General to allow the name of the United States to be used in proceedings to set aside the patent. Secretary Delano to-day approved the decision, together with the action of the general land office in issuing patents for mines which cover portions of the mining ground (Jerusalem excepted), patented to Highland Chief company. The Secretary of the Interior also to-day made a report suggested by the Commissioner of the Land Office, asking the Attorney General to authorize proceedings necessary to set aside the Highland Chief patent, so far as it conflicted with those already issued for mines. The above named controversy will therefore soon be transferred to the U. S. court. It involves pecuniary interests of very great magnitude, and has been one of the most closely and strenuously contested mining cases ever known to the records of the department.

Demand for Satisfaction from Mexico for the late Raids.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—As in previous cases where injuries have been inflicted on American citizens by Mexicans, the Mexican government will soon have brought to its attention by the Department of State the enormity of the offense recently committed by invading Mexicans on the Texas border, with a demand for such reparation as will satisfy our national honor.

Fifteenth Anniversary of the American Tract Society.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The friends of the American Tract Society celebrated its fifteenth year in New York Avenue Presbyterian church this evening, Judge Strong, of the supreme court, presided.

Return of the President to Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The President has returned to Washington.

The Senatorial Excursion.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—The navy department is informed that the steamer Dispatch left New Orleans for Vera Cruz with the senatorial excursionists.

Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Postoffices established—Chester, Lane county, Oregon, Jas. F. Chester, postmaster; Cedar Grove, Whatcom county, W. T., McKinney T. Tawes, postmaster; Silver Lake, Cowlitz county, W. T., Drusilla Germand, postmaster; Steptoe, Whitman county, W. T., John G. Richardson, postmaster. Name and site changed—Shell Rock, Wasco county, Oregon, to Collins' Landing. Skamania county, W. T., and Wm. Collins appointed postmaster.

THE TILTON-BEECHER CASE.

Further Testimony of Beecher.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Beecher was asked if Moulton that night said anything to him about his having procured from Mrs. Tilton what the witness knew to be a lie, or what he (Moulton) was justified in calling a lie, or words of that effect. Witness was made or expression used. To all of these questions he answered, emphatically, "No." Witness was asked if Moulton said to him, "I refused to be the getting the letter of retraction, that that wouldn't save him. He replied: "There was a distinct and, if I recollect right, a repeated statement on his part that it was going to save him." Asked if the peace and harmony between us two was the end in view, but if you mean by 'save' me, according to the later theories—"

Beach—I object to that. I move to strike it out."

The court struck it out.

Witness was asked if the expression save yourself was used, or anything like it. He replied he didn't think there was. He didn't know but Moulton said something about passage of the Divine river, destroyed all the bridges between Fuller's Island and Montgomery, four in number, within a distance of twelve miles. Montgomery and Walden bridges are yet in danger. The damage done cannot be replaced short of $100,000.

Fire at Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., April 4.—A fire this morning destroyed the finishing department of Cooper, Hewitt & Co.'s wire mill, causing damage to the extent of $50,000; insured.

Trial of Maguire for the Murder of his Wife.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—In the case of Edward Maguire, on trial for the murder of his wife at South San Francisco on the 8th of November, District Attorney Ryan to-day opened for the prosecution, followed by C. B. Darwin for the defense. The theory of defense in brief is, that Chas. Rosenbaum, a workman in Cushing & Louderback's distillery, South San Francisco, became acquainted with Mrs. Maguire, and an improper intimacy sprung up between them; that Rosenbaum prevailed on Mrs. Maguire to leave her husband with their child, a little girl four or five years old. Rosenbaum took them to the house of a respectable lady, who, soon discovering the state of affairs, sent them away; that Rosenbaum then took her to his own house in the character of a servant, and their criminal intimacy soon became open and undisguised; that Maguire once went to Rosenbaum's house and was beaten by the latter; that finally Maguire went to Rosenbaum's house to take away his child, and while there, in a frenzied state of mind, killed his wife. Several witnesses for the defense were called, by whom the fact of the shooting was established. The man who first found Maguire standing testified that his appearance and manner were those of a man demented. The trial is still in progress.

Recovery of the Stolen Picture.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—The stolen picture "Elaine" was found by detective officers about 4 o'clock this morning, in a small shanty on Langton street—a small street leading off Howard street between Seventh and Eighth. The officers, on entering the house, found the names of the men concerned in the theft, as O'Neil, Allen, Donahue, Curran and Wallace. All are young men, but old offenders, and are well known to the police. The picture was taken from the frame by Allen; the others of the gang waiting outside. Detective Lees got on their track from being told by a gentleman, whose name has not been made public, that he saw, about 10 o'clock on Thursday evening, four men opposite the store of Snow and May in earnest conversation. On describing the men Lees thought he recognized them as ex-convicts. Officers were put on the trail, and between 2 and 4 o'clock the arrests were made. Curran was found at a lodging house on Third street near Market. Allen and Wallace were caught on the sidewalk as the officers were leaving the house with Curran, O'Neil in a house of ill fame on Dupont street, and Donahue at 530 Mission street. The men were skillfully questioned and finally information as to the whereabout of the picture was elicited, leading to its discovery. It was wrapped in unbleached cotton cloth, labeled custom-house official mugs, and hid in a bed. It is uninjured, except a slight tear about an inch long. The motive of the thieves was simply to obtain the reward they expected to be offered. Their attention was called to the matter by the remark of a policeman who had been to see "Elain," that $25,000 had been refused for it. On that hint they perpetrated the robbery. All of them are now in confinement in the city prison. They are very reticent, most of them saying they know nothing about the affair.

John Mitchel Obsequies.

The obsequies of John Mitchel were celebrated in this city to-day on an imposing scale. The procession, numbering about 5,000 people, comprising a number of Irish civic and military societies and citizens, moved from Irish American Hall through the principal streets. The coffin was borne in a carriage drawn by six horses. Returning to the hall the coffin was placed on a bier in front of the platform and an address delivered by District Attorney Ryan, the orator of the day. The arrangements were all carried out in the most satisfactory manner.

Suicide.

George E. Fisher, an Englishman, was found dead in his room at the Cosmopolitan House to-day. A bottle marked "Sulphate morphia" was found on the table. He went to the Cosmopolitan House April 1st, intending to take the last steamer to Australia, but for some reason unknown failed to do so. Yesterday he asked the clerk of the house to get him a bottle of morphia, which the clerk declined to do. On an envelope was found written with a lead pencil: "Beware of the saloon on Pine street, near Kearny. W. White." [The following words undecipherable.] "Take my effects; write to [name illegible] West Market, N. S. W. Love will pay Bryan and Harrison. On the other side of the envelope was written: "God have mercy on me and pity me. Get my watch from Uncle Sam's, Kearny street, and send to my wife." Deceased was a man of about 35 or 40 years of age.

UTAH.

Cannon Escapes through a Technicality.

SALT LAKE, April 2.—Geo. Q. Cannon, delegate from Utah, was on trial to-day for polygamy. The defense was that he had contracted no polygamous marriage within two years preceding the indictment. The prosecution said they did not expect to prove a marriage within two years. The court held that it was the act of consummating the second or other marriage subsequent to the first which constituted the offense under the statute; therefore prosecution was barred by the United States statute of limitations. Defendant was discharged.

John Hurd, of the Albany city sawmill, had a boom of logs cut loose by the beaver while anchored in the mouth of the Calapooia, resulting in a loss of about $150.

At the public examination of teachers, held by the county superintendent of public schools for Wasco county, on Tuesday last, but one person was present for examination.

Dan Lowell, an old time resident of Astoria, is simply clerk for the 12th and 13th Lighthouse Districts, and his headquarters are 304 Montgomery street, room No. 3, San Francisco.

The Mountaineer of last Saturday says: "The weather has continued cold and winter-like during last week. Everybody is getting tired of it and are wistfully looking for a change for the better."

The number of vessels arrived and sailed to and from Gardiner during the year 1874 was: Arrivals, 49; sailed, 53; lumber exported, 7,373,000 feet; merchandise exported, 100 tons; imported, 350 tons.

A gentleman from Victoria purchased Mr. George Williams' pack train of fifty-two pack mules at the Dalles and after getting them shod will take them to Fort Wrangel, where they will be packed for the Cassiar gold mines.

The Eugene Journal says: "The river is up and booming, the road to Springfield being we nigh impassable from the overflow of the bottoms. A heavy drift is running, and the steamer Ohio may be delayed on that account."

It is reported that the directors of the Yaquina railroad propose at once to enter upon the work of making a thorough and complete survey of the route for the road, so as to be able to commence work as soon as the weather becomes settled.

Mr. James B. Crossen, chairman of the board of commissioners of the Dalles and Sandy Wagon road, paid off the men at work on the road in charge of Mr. John M. Marden, on the 31st ultimo. The work is progressing finely and satisfactorily.

Mr. A. L. Stinson writes from Jefferson under date of April 2d, and says: "The Santiam raised yesterday and last night to a high stage—higher than for several years past. The water covers the entire bottom on the Linn county side of the river, and is still rising."

The *Grange*r says W. Webber has just returned from making a preliminary survey of the Harrisburg and Spore Ferry Canal. He reports the enterprise entirely practicable. The distance between the points named is 13¼ miles, and the fall 87 feet. The proposition is to make the canal 30 feet on the bottom, and use it for navigation as well as water-power.

Three vessels were loading lumber at Gardiner last week, and another was fully due. When the mills there run full time they cut 65,000 feet of lumber per day. Loggers are busy on the rivers and inlets furnishing logs for the mills. A few thousand dollars expended in a boom in the river would open out a large scope of country for logging purposes, covered with fine varieties of forest timber.

During the inquest held over the body of the man found last Thursday in the Santiam near Jefferson, it was suggested that it might be the remains of Mr. Pickard, who so mysteriously disappeared from near Marion about two years since. His son was sent for, but failed to find anything in the mutilated corps to justify him in the belief that it was the body of his father. The remains of the unfortunate person were placed in the burial ground at Jefferson.

A writer in the Plaindealer says: "Coos Bay navigation has not been, this winter, so good as usual, nor have vessels made their trips as regularly as they formerly did, a fact which is somewhat singular, and is attributed to the following cause: The prevailing winds contrary to the general rule, have been from the northwest instead of the southwest; thereby blowing the sand into the bar, rendering the water shallow, and the bar unfit for entrance by vessels."

A letter to the Statesman says: There has been quite a commotion in Silverton for the past few days, in consequence of the non appearance of "Jo," especially among his creditors. Jo has of late been running a private boarding house and "bucking" against the hotel. Some, however, think he has gone to the Great Salt Lake to procure a car load of lobsters. It is our private opinion, that if he should fail in finding the lobsters, ten to one he will join the Mormons and then buck against Brigham on the patent right system.

Rev. J. Howard, returning home from Canyonville recently, enjoyed the pleasure of a cold bath. When near Roberts' creek, about six miles south of Roseburg he turned off the road to shun the mud, and coming to the ford of the creek, without examining its depth, plunged into swimming water. His horse was unable to scramble up the other side, and he was compelled to swim down the creek about one hundred yards before he could find a place to get out. He says what grieved him most was, there was no one near to enjoy the laugh.

THE TERRITORIES.

The U. S. revenue cutter Oliver Wolcott was at Olympia last Saturday.

According to the published report Olympia owes $3,562 95 and has $33 14 to pay with.

Robert Mack and J. L. Cook were elected by Western Lodge, Olympia, as representatives to the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F.

It is rumored that H. L. Yesler has sold the lot on the corner of Mill and Commercial streets, Seattle, 30x60 feet, for $8,000, it being 266⅔ dollars per foot front.

The recent storms on Puget Sound filled the roads in every direction with fallen timber to such an extent as to seriously impede travel. Road supervisors have had their hands full.

Hon. Moses Thatcher, of Logan, Utah, an eminent member of Brigham's everlasting priesthood, has been indicted for subornation of perjury, by the United States grand jury, at Boise City, Idaho. Moses will be tried at the next term.

Grand Master Struve, of Olympia, has issued dispensations for the organization of new lodges of Odd Fellows in Cove City, Union county, and Marshfield, Coos county, Oregon. New lodges will shortly be instituted at Steilacoom and Tacoma.

A letter from Franklin, Utah, to the Salt Lake Tribune, says: "The Indian chief of this branch of the Shoshone tribe, Sagwitch, went to Salt Lake City, a written pass for him having been sent. He stated to a good and reliable outsider that all the chiefs of the various tribes in all the country round (excepting his hand extended all around) were ordered to go to Salt Lake City forthwith to have a great talk with B. Young. What devilment is on hand now?"

Hill Harmon, contractor for keeping the insane at the asylum at Steilacoom, was in Olympia last week, and informs the Transcript that there are forty-nine patients in the asylum. He says the storm of Sunday morning damaged several of the buildings to the amount of $400.

A report originated, we think, some time ago with the Tacoma Tribune that a Norwegian named Andrew Anderson had been drowned while returning from Port Madison to Tacoma. He has since come to life in vigor and freshness, and denies the report concerning his being food for fishes.

The Port Townsend Argus says: Judge Swan received from an Indian boy on Wednesday last one of the finest specimens of an ivory tusk of a mastodon that has ever been discovered in this territory. It is over four feet in length and weighs nearly sixty pounds. The Indian boy found it at Squim bay. A portion of the face of a bluff had fallen down leaving this tusk exposed. The two ends are somewhat decayed and disintegrated, showing that it was originally of very large dimensions. It will be forwarded to Smithsonian Institute.

The Olympia Courier says: "The night of March 27th and morning of the 28th, eclipsed all other spells of the season in the severity of the weather. At Olympia the snow began to fall a little before midnight Saturday, and at 5 o'clock next morning it was nearly 12 inches deep by actual measurement. About 6 o'clock the wind began to gather strength, and at 7 o'clock had increased to a gale that made everything movable quiver, and sent trees down by the hundreds. The wind had nearly subsided at noon, and no great damage had been done in this region, although every road leading from town was blockaded with fallen timber, that required a large amount of hard work to remove, and the telegraph wires were so broken and pulled down that telegraphic communication could not be resumed till the Wednesday following. Reports from the country, both in Thurston and Pierce counties, show that a great deal of damage was done in the shape of blown down fences and overturned chimneys and wood sheds. The Insane Asylum, near Steilacoom, the stockade and fences were blown down and other damage done to an extent that caused a loss of over $500 to Mr. Harmon. The gale extended all over the northern coast, wherever reports have been received from, and in most places more severely than here. In Victoria houses were blown down or unroofed, vessels wrecked and sunk, and a vast deal of mischief done which, it is yet too soon to estimate with accuracy. Thus far we have not heard of any loss of life, and sincerely hope none may have resulted. The weather still continues raw and disagreeable, with little appearance of anything better very soon."

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

On Tuesday last week W. L. Wade, Esq., of North Salem, was painfully injured while getting out of his delivery wagon.

Eugene, a little son of S. L. Simpson, fell into the slough just south of the surveyor general's residence last Wednesday, and came very near drowning.

Miss Jennie Hargan, of Oakland, in lifting a tub full of water last week, burst a blood vessel, and fears are entertained that she will not recover.

At Salem last Friday Mr. Samuel Brown, a son-in-law of Mr. Charles Swegle, was thrown from a horse he was riding without any saddle and his head badly broken, and he was also somewhat bruised about the head and shoulders.

Some time ago "Doctor" J. L. Johnson, of Olympia, was raised on a charge of selling liquor to Indians, and, for lack of bail, held to await trial at the recent term of court. He was then tried and found guilty and sent to jail. Last week H. G. Struve, Esq., asked for writ of habeas corpus, on the ground that under the new law he was illegally confined. The writ was granted, and the doctor is once more a free man.

The Lafayette Courier says: "A petition is in circulation for the pardon of Henry Norden, who was convicted of larceny and sentenced four years' imprisonment in the penitentiary. Norden has four motherless children scattered over the country. The youngest but about two years old. These little waifs have to rely upon the cold charity of the world for food and clothing. Norden has for many years borne a good name, but like poor Troy was thrown into bad company. The petition for reprieve is being extensively signed. For his children's sake he should be pardoned."

Wm. Vincent, a young man living on the North Umpqua, about six miles from Roseburg, met with a very painful accident Tuesday of last week. While he was hunting, which came very near resulting in the loss of his eyesight. It seems he had forgotten the caps for his gun, and was using the phosphorus of matches instead. He succeeded in killing two in this manner, which inspired him with confidence and banished all fear of accident. The tube of his gun became clogged, and while picking it out with the hammer raised the piece was discharged, the powder flying in his face and eyes, making a painful and ugly wound.

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 5, 1875.

SCHOOL DISTRICT ELECTION.

Our citizens will pardon us for mentioning again that the annual school election will be holden this afternoon, commencing at 2 o'clock. One director is to be elected for a three years' term and a clerk for one year. Events that have transpired within the last few years present in the strongest light the importance of these school elections. The choice of officers to manage such a system of schools as that of Portland, and through whose hands nearly or quite $40,000 pass in the course of the year, is a very different matter from selecting officers for a sparsely settled country district. Good, honest capable men, should, of course, be chosen in small districts as well as large, but the stake is far greater in the latter case.

We hear but one person spoken of for director, since Giltner has been crowded off the track. The nomination of Mr. W. S. Ladd, by a number of leading citizens, whose action we announced some time since, having been made known to him, a letter has been received by one of those gentlemen from Mr. Ladd, who will be here soon, saying if the people desire his services as director he will not refuse to serve them. It is hoped there will be no opposition to Mr. Ladd's election, as he is every way suitable. His great experience in the board in the early history of schools gives him especial familiarity with the subject. We remarked that we had heard no other name mentioned since that of Giltner dropped out. It is proper to add, however, that there have been instances in the history of this school district of the springing of a name suddenly at the meeting, which had not before been publicly mentioned, and carrying it through to a triumphant election, because of the failure of voters to be on hand. If the voters come out to-day, no such thing can take place; if they do not come out no one can foretell what will happen.

For clerk there are three candidates: Geo. W. Murray, Richard Bird and the present officer, Mr. Holman. They are all good men.

THE OTHER SIDE.

To all whom it may concern: We the undersigned citizens of Montgomery county, Kansas, would respectfully recommend that the State board for the relief of the destitute of Kansas, appoint and authorize P. Hiatt, of Hornitos, of the State of California, to act as soliciting agent for, and in behalf of the destitute in Montgomery county, Kansas.

INDEPENDENCE, Ks., March 8, 1875.

JOHN A. HELFENSTEIN, County Clerk.
YORK & HUMPHREY, Att'vs, Independence.
DANIEL GRASS, Independence.
D. W. ANDERSON, Ex City.
O. HINSON, Notary Public, Radical City.
HENRY M. BENSON, Radical City.
WILLIAM BENSON,
Relief Agent and Postmaster, Stornerton.

The above we publish at the request of Mr. Hiatt, whose name has been unfavorably mentioned in this and other papers. The original of this document, which we have inspected, has all the appearance of genuineness, and we have no doubt of its being unimpeachable in that respect. We hope none of the other persons whose names are appended, are of the same stripe as York, of York & Humphrey. He is the scoundrel who disclosed his true character in connection with Pomeroy's attempt to bribe his way into the U. S. Senate two years since.

Mr. Hiatt does not pretend to have any other authority than this to act as agent for the collection of relief to the Kansas sufferers. He had reasonably supposed this would be sufficient to enable him to do something for those distressed people, and he was willing to do, and was endeavoring to do it, in the most disinterested good faith.

As to the stories in regard to his domestic troubles, he admits that they are not without some foundation in fact; but he denies the statement that he abandoned his family, and says that although he left Kansas under circumstances not altogether above just criticism, he has been back since, and there has been a reconciliation between him and his family, and that he spent last year with his family at work on his farm, and only came out to this coast again because here he could make some money at teaching school. He says he has been sending back to his family all he could make, and expects to return and work on the farm again this summer.

As to the charge of fraud in connection with the sale of property, he pronounces the story false in all respects. In short, Hiatt admits that his life has not been all that it should have been, but denies that it has been as bad as represented, and he offers to allow a person interested in getting at the truth for publication, to telegraph to Eudora, the town where his evil deeds are alleged to have been committed, and ascertain the facts, he paying the expenses of the telegraphing. That certainly looks fair enough.

We express no opinion as to which side has the truth. We gave the statement of Hiatt's accuser, and now we have given his statement.

A MAGNIFICENT START.

On Saturday, March 6th, a Republican club meeting was held in Gonzaga Hall, Washington City, for the purpose of selecting a "Campaign Committee" for 1875. The committee was chosen, consisting of J. S. Lake, Sixth Auditor's office; H. C. McLean, Supervising Architect's office; D. J. Hawes, Second Auditor's office; J. H. Carmick, Second Auditor's office; H. A. Dobson, Sixth Auditor's office; C. C. Ellis, War Department; J. H. Pickell, Quartermaster-General's office; W. C. Tiffany, Postoffice Department; H. T. Eckert, Government Printing Office; W. D. Shaw, Office of Comptroller of the Currency; N. B. Walker, Register's office; D. Thompson, Jr., Department of the Interior, and George Jessup, Interior Revenue Bureau.

It is exceedingly pleasant to observe that all the committee are so connected with the public service as to give assurance that the campaigns in which the club may embark during the year will be in no danger of languishing for want of that which has of late imparted such remarkable activity to political campaigns generally. There is every reason to hope that a Republican club which starts out under such splendid auspices will give a good account of itself when the time for action shall arrive. We predict for it a brilliant career.

PASSENGERS COMPLAIN.

Some of the passengers by the Ajax, from San Francisco, complain very much of the delays and disappointments at San Francisco in connection with the sailing of the vessel. They say it was announced first that she would sail on Saturday, March 27th, and many who had procured tickets went to her dock to go on board, when they were informed her departure had been postponed till Sunday. By Sunday the number had increased, and the sailing was put off till Monday. And when Monday came, they were again sent away to wait till Tuesday. This caused very considerable trouble and some expense, which, especially to immigrants, of whom there was quite a large number, is a very important matter. The list of passengers was unusually large, both cabin and steerage being full, and this, of course, added to the unpleasantness of the situation. These delays may have been unavoidable; there may have been facts in connection which the passengers did not know, and which, if known, would afford an entirely satisfactory explanation. It certainly does not look right on the surface. Except there is some plain and unavoidable necessity for it, such delays and disappointments are good cause of complaint.

Secretary Bristow will receive bids till noon of May first for the building of a steam propeller for service in the Revenue Marine of the Pacific coast. Hon. W. D. Hare, collector of customs at Astoria, at the suggestion of Capt. White, of the Service, has placed on our desk a pamphlet issued by the Secretary of the Treasury, containing form of contract, directions for making out bids, form of bonds, &c., and full plans, specifications and drawings of the vessel to be built. If any of our citizens feel disposed to bid for this work we should be glad to give them an opportunity to use this pamphlet to guide them in making their estimates and preparing their bids.

The friends of the public schools will be gratified to learn that W. S. Ladd, in reply to a letter informing him of his nomination for School Director, has expressed his willingness to serve if elected.

William S. Plummer, of San Francisco, has invented a fruit dryer which he says will lay the Alden process in the shade.

IN MEMORIAM.

HALL OF UMATILLA LODGE No. 40, A. F. & A. M.
Umatilla, Oregon, March 27, 1875.

WHEREAS, In the wisdom of the Supreme Architect of the Universe, our brother, R. B. RANDALL, of Kalama Lodge No. 17, of Kalama, W. T., has by a sudden and untooked for dispensation been called to leave the sphere of his earthly labors and pass to his reward, therefore

Resolved, That while we bow in submission to the will of our Supreme Grand Master, we recognize the many manly, amiable and intellectual qualities of our late brother, and feel that in his death we have lost a worthy and upright brother, and the community a most faithful and promising citizen.

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved relatives of our late brother, and to the Lodge of which he was a member.

Resolved That these Resolutions be spread upon the minutes of the Lodge, and that the Secretary be instructed to send a copy to the Lodge of which deceased was a member, and to furnish copies to the MORNING OREGONIAN and Daily Bulletin of Portland, Oregon, for publication.

A NEW SCHOOL FOR YOUNG GIRLS,
AN ANGLO-GERMAN INSTITUTION TO MEET the particular wants of those who desire to secure for their children a good education in the English and the German Language, in one as well as the other, has for late been opened in the Chapel of the German Evangelical Reformed Congregation of this city on Washington street, below Third street, by Rev. JOHN GANTENBEIN, Pastor of the Church, with two of his daughters as Teachers. French, Instrumental and Vocal Music, Drawing and Ornamental Needle Work, besides all the Common School branches, will be taught with efficiency. Yet the principal aim of the Institution is the combination of the two languages, and the education of heart and mind to a character of pure morals and true goodness on the common platform of the people of each and the different Christian denominations. In order to establish good habits and a refined, strict discipline in it, the School has been opened without ostentation, with a selection of only 20 girls, mostly below 10 years of age, and from very respectable families, and is now prepared to admit new scholars gradually, one after another. Applications for admission may be addressed to the Director of the Institution, Rev. JOHN GANTENBEIN, N. E. corner of Fifth and C streets, or to his daughters, the Teachers in the school, on Washington, below Third street. a3d3t

CITY [illegible]

THE NEW REVENUE CUTTER.—Says the Astorian: Through courtesy of Capt. J. W. W[illegible] of the U. S. revenue marine, we are placed in possession of a printed copy of the contract and specifications for building a steam propeller for revenue service on the Pacific coast, which is to be constructed this year and delivered at Astoria. Sealed proposals will be received by the Secretary of the Treasury until noon of Saturday, May 1, 1875, for the construction of this vessel, and she will be built wherever the most favorable bid shall be made. The plans have been designed by Chief Engineer Merryman and White, U. S. R. M., and the vessel is to be of the following dimensions: Length from front of grip to aft side of post on water line, 140 feet; length from fore side of stem to aft side of rudder post at main deck, 140 feet 7 inches; beam molded, finish-deck hight, 23 feet; beam extreme, at water line, 24 feet; depth of hold at aft end of main deck, 11 feet 11 inch; draught of water aft, loaded, 10 feet 10 inches; draught of water forward, 8 feet 7 inches; tonnage (C. H.), 227 tons. The specifications and building directions call for the best Oregon or Washington Territory lumber, and if some of Oregon's shipbuilders would successfully compete for the work, Oregon might have the proud satisfaction of constructing this vessel. Will Portland furnish the mechanics to do this?

REORGANIZED.—Portland Encampment No. 1, I. C. R. C., was reorganized by Grand Commander Charles E. Burrows, of Salem, at the Good Templars' Hall on Friday evening, with twenty-five members. The following list of officers were installed to serve during the ensuing term: Chas. A. Wheeler, E. C.; Geo. W. Holsapple, E. Comm.; Enoch Turland, S. C.; Miss E. Sutherland, C. of H.; Mrs. Hart, C. of the H.; Mrs. E. J. Thomas, M. of C.; Mrs. E. V. Dusenbery, 1st L.; Miss E. Robinson, C. of R. C.; W. E. Drummond, C.; W. A. Robinson, E. Skinner, J.; H. N. Skinner, C. of S.; S. J. Ormsby, V.; J. H. Drummond, 1st G.; Valentine Ireland, Sent. The next regular meeting of the Encampment will be held at Good Templars' Hall Thursday evening, and The Grand Encampment, I. C. R. C., will meet in this city, commencing the first Tuesday in May.

THE FUNERAL obsequies of the late Aug. Steglich, who died in San Francisco several weeks ago, took place yesterday at 10 o'clock from the Masonic Temple. Deceased was a member of Harmony Lodge A. F. & A. M., Minerva Lodge I. O. O. F., Concordia Grove A. O. D., German Aid Society, and Multnomah Company, No. 2. The funeral was conducted by the Masonic fraternity, and the remains consigned to their last resting place with the beautiful and impressive rites of the order. Besides a number of friends of the deceased, there were large delegations from several lodges and societies in attendance. The cortege moved from Masonic Temple at 10 o'clock and took up the slow, silent march for Riverview cemetery, where the body was laid at rest.

NEW SONG.—This evening, at the New Market Theater, Mr. Thomas Whiffen, the well known clever actor, will favor the audience with a new song, entitled "Beautiful Lena." The words and music of this song were composed by Professor A. L. Francis, formerly of Salem, but now of this city. Professor F. sent the manuscript East last year and had it published. "Beautiful Lena" was sung last summer by the English tenor, Mr. Alfred Wills, of the Madame Bishop troupe, at Reed's Opera House, Salem, where it was received very much favor. Mr. Whiffen, we are informed, is the possessor of a voice of unusual compass and sweetness, and he will doubtless be successful on the occasion of his début before a Portland audience in the role of a vocalist.

FROM MINNESOTA.—We are in receipt of a letter, dated March 16, 1875, from a gentleman residing in Minnesota, which states that the writer thinks seriously of coming to Oregon to seek a permanent home. The writer says: "Minnesota has had a very cold, long winter. A great number of the steam mills have dried up in consequence of the extreme rigorous weather, so for months the grist, more throughout the country, driven by water power, have ceased to run. Wheat, our great product, has been low—from 60 to 80 cents per bushel. Minnesota has the reputation of being a healthful State, but for consumption, fevers, nervous and rheumatic diseases, it is probably not the best country in the world."

CRUSHED TO DEATH.—From passengers who reached this city on Saturday from Kalama we learn that a land slide occurred at Tacoma about 4 o'clock on Saturday morning. A large mass of earth, bec

Sutherland, S. C.; Miss E. Sutherland, J. C.; W. A. Hart, C. of the H.; Mrs. E. J. Thomas, M. of C.; Mrs. E. V. Dusenbery, 1st L.; Miss Florence E. Skinner, 2; H. N. Skinner, C. of the R. C.; W. E. Drummond, C.; W. A. Robinson, P. S.; J. Crumby, V.; J. H. Drummond, 1st G.; Valentine Ireland, Sen. The next regular meeting of the Encampment will be held at Templars' Hall Thursday evening next.

Encampment, I. C. R. C., will be in this city, commencing the first Tuesday in May.

DIED.—The funeral obsequies of the late Langley, who died in San Francisco several weeks ago, took place yesterday at 10:30 o'clock, from the Masonic Temple. Deceased was a member of Harmony Lodge A. F. & A. M., Minerva Lodge I. O. O. F., Concordia Grove U. A. O. D., German Aid Society, and Multnomah Company No. 2. The writer says: Minnesota has had a very cold, long winter. A great number of the streams have dried up in consequence of the extreme rigorous weather, so for months the grist mills throughout the country, driven by water power, have ceased to run. Wheat, our great product, has been low—from 60 to 80 cents per bushel. Minnesota has the reputation of being a healthful State, but for consumption, fevers, throats and rheumatic diseases, it is probably not the best country in the world."

CRUSHED TO DEATH.—From passengers who reached this city on Saturday from Kalama we learn that a land slide occurred at Tacoma about 4 o'clock on Saturday morning. A large mass of earth, becoming detached from the top of the cliff, at the town, came down with a thunderous roar. Near the base of the cliff stood a small shanty, occupied by some Chinamen. The shanty was partially buried. One Chinaman was caught under the mass of earth and gravel and instantly crushed to death. Several others, who were sleeping in the building at the time, managed to effect their escape. When the train left for Kalama the surviving Chinamen were digging for the body of their dead comrade.

BURIED.—All that was mortal of the late Leonidas Stewart, who met with a violent and sudden death on Friday evening in the Bank Exchange saloon, at the hands of W. H. Baker, was consigned yesterday afternoon to the dust of the valley. The funeral took place from the late residence near the corner of Alder and Sixth streets, to which place the body was removed from the undertaker's on Saturday. The remains were buried in the Lone Fir cemetery, and were followed there by numerous friends of the deceased. A subscription was raised on Saturday sufficient to defray the funeral expenses among the friends of Stewart, as he had no means at the time of his death.

WRECK DERELICT.—Capt. Bolles, of the steamer Ajax, reports that he never found the channel of the Columbia so well marked or clearly defined as when he came up on the last trip. Since the free up Gen. Meigher and Capt. Kemplf have taken every possible precaution to protect the interests of commerce. New soundings in many instances have been made and new buoys planted to indicate the windings of the channel. The favorable report made by Capt. Bolles reflects credit on the officers who have charge of this lighthouse district and proves them to be vigilant and faithful in the discharge of their duties.

DEFERRED.—Yesterday forenoon the funeral procession of the late Aug. Stieglich was deferred some time at the Stark street ferry, and not being able to wait longer, was compelled to go down and cross on the railroad ferry. When the boat at Stark street was about halfway across the river, a quantity of drift-wood caught on the wire cable and prevented the ferry from reaching the western shore. After numerous attempts to dislodge the drift, the boat was compelled to return to the east side. At length the obstruction was removed and regular trips were resumed.

EXAMINATION CONTINUED.—In Police Court on Saturday, the case of the State vs. W. H. Baker, charged with the murder of Leonidas Stewart, in the Bank Exchange Saloon on Friday evening, was called for examination. Charles Ball, Esq., appeared in behalf of the State, and E. A. Cronin for the defendant. By common consent the examination was continued until this morning at 10 o'clock. Baker was remanded to jail to await examination. He appears quite cheerful and confident under the circumstances.

MISSIONARY CONCERT.—The monthly missionary concert took place yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Taylor-street M. E. Church. The capacious room was filled to repletion. A programme of unusual attraction was presented, consisting of solos, duets (vocal), recitations, repeating passages of Scripture, etc. An interesting and profitable time was experienced. At the close of the exercises a collection was taken up in aid of the missionary cause, and a substantial sum realized.

MONTHLY MEETING.—On the first of January the various pastors uniting in a revival effort agreed to meet on the first Monday of each month to consult on such matters as pertain to the common Christian welfare, and to invite ministers of all denominations, both resident and visiting, to a seat in their monthly councils. The fourth meeting will be held at the study of the Baptist pastor, corner of Fourth and Alder streets, at 2 o'clock this (Monday) P. M.

ARRIVED.—Last evening at 10 o'clock the steamer California arrived here from Sitka and way ports, bringing very few passengers, and a full cargo of freight.

SCHOOL ELECTION.

Pursuant to the requirements of a law passed at the recent session of the State Legislature, the annual school election will be held in this city to-day. As previously announced the object of this election is to choose a school director for district No. 1, for the period of three years, and a clerk for one year. The boundary of school district No. 1 includes the corporate limits of Portland. The election will take place at Masonic Temple, at the corner of Alder and Third streets, between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock P. M.

The following persons have been appointed by the board to act as judges of election: C. S. Silver, J. L. Atkinson, and Lloyd Brooke. A. N. Gambell and John Steel were appointed to act as clerks.

For the information of the public, we publish section 43 and 44 of the last enacted law:

Section 43. Any male person shall be entitled to vote at a school meeting who is 21 years of age and has resided in the district 30 days immediately preceding the meeting, and who has property in the district subject to assessment and taxation.

Section 44. Women who are widows and have children to educate, and taxable property in the district, and who have resided in the district 30 days aforesaid, shall be entitled to vote.

It was held by the judges at the last election that persons possessing money or other valuables liable to taxation, were legal voters at a school election.

THE INQUEST.

An inquest was held over the body of Leonidas Stewart at the Bank Exchange Saloon on Saturday morning by Coroner Wetmore. The following persons were summoned to act as jurors: J. H. Norris, W. A. Hart, John Bird, N. P. Harris, H. D. Chapman and John Kearney. Dr. C. C. Strong was called and made an examination of the wound. He stated that the dead man, Leonidas Stewart, had been shot in the left breast, the weapon having been held close to the body; the ball entering between the fourth and fifth ribs, near the medial line, ranging downwards and backwards, and passed out about an inch below the back bone, on the left, four or five inches below the level of the point of its entrance in the breast, but cutting off some of the large vessels; and it was sufficient to cause death. Several witnesses were examined: David Brown—the man with whom Baker was playing cards at the time the fatal affair occurred.—Geo. Collins and John Wull, after which the jury retired for consultation. After a short deliberation they returned a verdict substantially to the effect that the deceased Leonidas Stewart, came to his death from a pistol shot fired by W. H. Baker, on the night of April 2, 1875, at about 10:30 o'clock, at a saloon, known as the Bank Exchange in Portland, 108 First street.

THE STAGE.

Joe Murphy was at Memphis on the 15th ult.

Mlle. Gaugain, the danseuse, is in New York city.

Katherine Rogers is the attraction at the California Theater.

Vivian and troupe were at Wilmington, Cal., on the 20th ult.

An entire new programme will be presented to-night at the Adelphi.

Geo. S. Knight, the Dutch comique, was at Providence, R. I., last week.

"Bobby Newcomb has written two new songs, viz.: "Down where the panzies grow" and "Pretty as a daisy."

Kate Raymond and O. B. Collins closed an engagement of eight months' duration at San Francisco, on March 14th, and have gone East, to produce their new play of "Roughing It," written for them by Stephen Maybell, the Oregon poet.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Annual school election.

German Fair this evening.

A bright, clear day was yesterday.

Great quantities of drift-wood is passing.

County court will convene this morning.

The fine ship La Escosa went down the river yesterday. She will complete her cargo at Astoria.

A number of the ladies and gentlemen from Olympia, who took part in the Old Folks Concert, were photographed at Bosco & Megler's last week.

BASE BALL.

The bright weather has infused life into the local base ballists, and something may occur soon in that line.

The Pioneer Base Ball Club will meet this evening at John Bird's, 103 First street, for the purpose of reorganizing.

Johnson, late catcher of the Pioneers, has gone to Indianapolis, Indiana, where he expects to remain and attend college.

Regular monthly meeting of the Arcadian Club at their rooms this evening, when officers will be selected, and a time appointed for the season.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

The fair sex should look in at Simon Harris' and examine the linen suits which are exceedingly attractive. They are just the idea for spring and summer wear.

The Diamond Cross Cut Saw for which Kirk, Sheldon, East Portland, is sole agent, is having a large sale. Those in need of a good article, should call or send orders as above.

PERSONAL.

Phil. Goldsmith, of Goldsmith & Loewenberg, has returned after several months in New York.

The spring time has come, and with it new Goods to our enterprising merchants. The styles are much changed in clothing, and the dull times have worked a change in prices too; so much so, that persons with limited means can invest liberally. J. KOEN, opposite National Bank, is among the first to introduce the latest styles from the Eastern markets. He has an immense stock which is well worth looking through. Call and see the new stock.

GRAND BAZAR.

This evening the grand bazar and fair given under the auspices of the German Aid Society will be opened at the Skating Rink, and continued for four successive evenings. For several days past the committees have been busily engaged in putting up the rink preparatory to the opening of the bazar. The large, spacious room has been transformed into a fairy-like bower under the skillful manipulations of the committees. A partition of evergreens extends around the entire rink, several yards from the wall of the building, inclosing a large area in the center of the room. A long table extends nearly the length of this area, on which are to be placed the endless and nameless articles of needle and fancy work which will be sold and raffled. Around on the inner circle of the evergreen wall are arranged at convenient intervals a number of booths which are to be occupied when the fair opens. On the outer circle, between the booths and the wall of the building, seats are being arranged where a large number of persons can sit when wearied with walking about. Overhead there is a bewildering profusion of evergreen festoons suspended from the joists. These decorations are very tastefully and pleasantly relieved by a number of flags, which lend a picturesque air to the whole scene. When seen under the glare of gas jets, the interior of the Rink will present a view, dazzling to the eye and bewildering to the senses. Leading into the building from the front, one is required to pass under an arch constructed of evergreen boughs, on the top of which is conspicuously displayed the word "Willcommen."

Yesterday we paid a visit to the Rink, and found a score of ladies and gentlemen busily engaged in arranging the articles intended for exhibition and sale about the table. To-day the work of preparation will be renewed, and to-night the building will be thrown open, amidst the crash of music, to the public. The number of articles will be very large and the most of them valuable. The society has spared no pains in getting up this fair, and it gives every promise of being a grand success.

Music will be furnished each evening during the continuance of the fair, with the exception of one, by the Portland Brass Band. On Wednesday evening a grand instrumental concert will be given by the Aurora band. Thursday evening has been designated as the time for drawing the prizes.

Each ticket entitles the holder to free admission to the bazar during the fair, and to a chance of drawing a prize. Prizes will be delivered upon presentation of the ticket at the Skating Rink, on Friday, April 9th, between the hours of 8 A. M. and 1 P. M. Refreshments will be served each evening during the fair. The Skating Rink will be warmed and comfortably arranged for the accommodation of visitors.

Monday evening, April 12th a grand ball will be given at the rink by the society.

AMUSEMENTS.

THEATER.—New Market Theater was jammed on Saturday afternoon at matinee, on which occasion "Lighthouse Cliff" was produced in an excellent style. In the evening the house was packed from orchestra to gallery with a very fashionable audience. "Oliver Twist" was reproduced. If possible the play was rendered more spiritedly than on Friday evening. Mr. Herne as the brutal and ruthless "Bill Sykes," rendered the character with a fidelity that was painfully real. The character in its mildest aspects is a hideous one, and Mr. Herne invested it with all the revolting ferocity that could be realized in a real one. He seemed to catch Dickens' conception of the character, and to truthfully and faithfully represent it. Miss Blanche Galton, as "Nancy Sykes," did splendidly throughout. Her acting in the murder scene was so thoroughly realistic as to send a thrill of horror through the audience. Mr. Whiffen, as the "Artful Dodger," was exceedingly comical and rendered the character very correctly. As "Fagan," Mr. Fulford deserves complimenting. His make-up was faultless, and notwithstanding the character was entirely out of his line, he personated the penurious old villain capitally. The boy "Oliver" found a very fitting representation in Miss Rillie Deaves. The remainder of the cast was assigned to very competent hands.

This evening Mr. Herne will appear in another new character. For the first time the popular Irish romantic drama Lover's great novel, "Charles O'Malley, or the Irish Dragoon," will be presented. The play has been adapted expressly for Mr. Herne, who will appear in the role of "Micky Free." It will be a capital bill. In course of preparation, "Alphonso," "Rosina Meadows," "Handy Andy," and other popular pieces.

PASSENGER LISTS.

The steamer Oriflamme sailed from San Francisco for Portland on Saturday. She brings the following passengers: Mrs. H. Hampton and daughter, Wm. Rodberg, Mrs. P. Chapman, Miss M. Waymire, D. Bequette, W. W. Miller and family, J. H. Richey, J. A. Murphy and wife, Colonel Whipple, U. S. A., Adair Welcker, G. W. Hume, Mrs. L. Ach, Miss M. Russell, J. I. Cunningham, W. Harris, S. Border, J. Manning, E. Beebe, H. I. Irving, W. R. Power and family, F. Casson, L. Power, A. B. Moore and family, Mrs. R. Price and two children, Mrs. J. Thwaite and child, Mrs. Avery and three children, W. P. Dutton, F. A. Fletcher, A. Murdock, J. Head, J. B. Switzler and family, Dr. R. Sandford, Mrs. DeBoest, J. M. Shatwell and family, Victor Vitt, Mrs. F. Batchelder and son, Mrs. T. Cox, Mrs. E. W. Moxley, Miss Frank S. Harris, Mrs. J. Harris and two children, S. Fox, S. Harris, F. Selling and family, I. Selling, G. C. Lindermann, J. B. Irving, D. C. McKercher, L. Prager, L. D. Minor, H. L. Foot and wife.

At 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon the steamer Ajax sailed from this port for San Francisco, carrying hence the following passengers: W. A. Harrington, Charles Calef and wife, Captain Dimon and wife, C. H. Page, S. P. Quint, Arthur Howell, H. Meyer, Peter Lercher, H. A. Sears, N. E. Britt, J. W. Tilden and three children, Mrs. F. Coburn and three children, Robert Reed, wife and child, E. Lammon and son, Mrs. Norton, Mrs. Mary Johnson and infant, Wells, Fargo & Co.'s messenger, and 16 steerage.

"Do you lend money here?" asked a farmer, as he accosted a broker yesterday. "Yes, sir," was the reply: "How much interest?" "One per cent. a month." "Wall, that's a durn high interest, 'pears to me," continued the old man, "but I guess I'll take a dollar and a half for two weeks, and I've got to buy some boots for Hiram, and I'm purty short." He went off in a huff when informed that the loan was too small to open an account on.

The girls attending a seminary in Illinois set two chickens fighting in their room last Saturday. Bets on the result ran high, and at the conclusion of the contest the winning maiden was "better" by a gold watch, a pair of silk stockings, a French corset, two rolls of false hair, a patent bustle, and a beautiful book-mark with "Christ Our Guide" worked on it in colored silk.

"No, Joe, no," said a man of principle and compassion, as, with his teeth chattering, he leaned against the bar, "no hot Scotch for me. I couldn't swallow it while hundreds of wretched people are freezing at this moment. Gimme a, whisky sour, and plenty of ice. God pity the poor!"

SOMETHING NEW.

The new style of promenade photographs. These beautiful pictures are now made at Bosco & Megler's new rooms, Nos. 127 and 129, First street. Call and examine them.

The observing man must have noted a change in the establishment of BECK & WALDMAN. The last steamer brought them quite a large invoice of Spring Styles, which they are having displayed for the inspection of their numerous customers. They will continue to offer the same low bargains as usual the stock of Youth's clothing is varied and parents may find many new things that will be sure to please. Drop in this evening.

The Great Tribune.

Public opinion is the great tribunal by which the value of all discoveries is judged. Its favorable verdict long ago stamped Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as the leading invigorant and alterative of the age, and the truthfulness of that decision is constantly receiving fresh corroboration in the shape of results, the most complete and satisfactory, accompanied by every mild attribute to its efficacy as a remedy for indigestion, constipation, nervous complaints, sleeplessness, general debility, rheumatism and kidney disorders point in from every quarter; physicians compliment it as a remedy for most incurable maladies, and the press indorses the dictum of the profession. Thus the popularity of the reigning tonic-stimulant of America is fortunately widening, despite the invectives fulminated against spirituous preparations by the vendors of muck temperance bitters, which the public sense time since discovered to be fermented rubbish, and the sales of which are rapidly on the wane.

IMPORTANT.—Indorsed by the Medical profession, Dr. Wm. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS cures Coughs, Colds, Consumption, and all diseases of the Throat and Chest. DR. TOWNSLEY'S TOOTHACHE ANODYNE cures in one MINUTE.

THE MARRIAGE OF ALEXIS.

WHY THE GRAND DUKE WAS SENT ON HIS FOREIGN TRAVELS—HIS SECRET BETROTHAL—ABSENCE WHICH DID NOT CONQUER LOVE—THE PRINCE DEFIES PARENTAL INDIGNATION AND MARRIES THE GIRL OF HIS CHOICE—HOW THE HAPPY PAIR LIVE.

[Correspondence of the Chicago Times.]

DRESDEN, SAXONY, Jan. 18, 1875.—A social romance, with details of the most fascinating interest, has just come to a climax here. The tongues of Dresden, and they are many and blithe, have the tale trippingly. When you learn that the hero is Alexis, third son of the Czar, you will not be surprised that the escalandre is detailed in many keys.

In the winter of 1870 or 1871 it was made known in the official gazettes that the Czar had graciously consented to deprive himself of his youngest and best beloved son, in order that the young gentleman might complete his education by foreign travel. Presently thereafter it was known of poets that the Prince was embarked on one of the imperial frigates bound for America. It turns out that desire for knowledge concerning the nations of the earth was not the moving cause of Alexis' cruise around the world, which brought him in course of time to America. Russian Princes are rarely known to risk themselves on long voyages at sea, particularly in the style in which Alexis journeyed. Countless causes were assigned by the diplomatic world, but until lately the real cause was but cautiously hinted.

At the age of nineteen the young Prince met the daughter of one of his neighbors, a wealthy baron. He was charmed with her manners and person, and forgetting the law of the empire denying the marriage of princes of the blood with subjects, he permitted himself to fall in love with her. He wooed and won the girl, much in the way we all do, I suppose. No notice was taken of the matter by the Czar or family, as it was merely regarded as a flirtation, in which nothing more serious could happen than the destruction of mademoiselle. That, however, is the common fortune of the mortals favored by princely love, and so no impediments were put in the young man's way. Presently, however, the court was brought to its feet with a shock. The lad confided to a friend the facts, that he loved the girl; that the girl loved him, and that to possess her he must marry her. To possess such a secret and withhold it from the Czar constitutes treason in the enlightened empire of all the Russias. Of course the friend made a clean breast to the imperial parent. Alexis was summoned by the Czar and sternly ordered to dismiss the girl from his mind.

STEADFAST LOVE.

He protested his overwhelming love. The Czar only frowned. He might love his heart to ashes; but he should not marry. If the girl loved him she would consent to share his heart morganatically, but as to his name and heritage, the law of the empire forbade it. A proper mate for his state was even now being hunted up in a neighboring kingdom. This was all that the father had to say to the unhappy lover. If he could prevail on his beloved to accept him out of wedlock, the imperial court should, the slightest objection, but as to wife, here the Czar was made known to the girl by a personage of the imperial household, and indignantly rejected. Alexis, however, it is said, never broached such a thing to the lady, realizing from her noble character that she would never consent to degrade herself, even for her best beloved. Then came a season of pining. Alexis moped and fell away in flesh, and did all manner of things discomforting to the imperial old folks—the Czar and Czarina. To divert his mind from his disappointment, the cruise around the world was finally determined upon, and the details of the voyage were planned with lavish magnificence. Even at the last moment the parent's heart repented the measure, and Alexis was informed that by pledging himself to a princess selected for him, he could remain at home. Time, however, had made no change in the lad, and the so-called boyish passion burned as steadily as ever.

On arriving in New York he was well in health, and did not look like a person likely to suffer keenly under the cankering of cruel thought. He was sometimes pensive, but that was generally ascribed to longing for home and friends, natural to a lad of his years. However impassive in outward show the Prince was faithful to his love. He wrote her regularly during his journey, notwithstanding the parental interdict and the watchfulness of his governor. At least once a week, missives under cover to a friend in Paris were sent by the Prince until his arrival in Cuba, when by some unlucky chance his intrigue was discovered, and the correspondence for a time, at least, checked. Like Lord Lovel, he was gone from her father's gate a-year and a day, when his vessel dropped anchor at Cronstadt. He was watched closely on arriving at home, but for all that seems to have found an opportunity to see his sweetheart, as a marriage contract was ready for him to sign when he arrived, but he pleaded delay, and succeeded in gaining six months respite. During these six months the course of true love ran in grooves, and the two young folks became still more tenderly and devotedly attached. The state wedding, however, came up again as a near probability. The Prince set out for Paris to stave off the event, and finally, finding there was nothing to be hoped from delay, he sent word for the lady to be ready at a certain time for the ceremony which would give him a wife and lose him a possible crown.

MARRIED TO THE GIRL OF HIS CHOICE.

Coming back to St. Petersburg, the father requested Alexis to prepare for the betrothal ceremony. The Prince refused. He declared himself willing to abdicate such rights as he held under the empire, but demanded the liberty which the poorest Russian has, of marrying the girl of his choice—that is if the girl is willing. The Emperor dismissed him in disgrace, and expecting severe discipline the Prince went straightway to take advantage of what might be his only opportunity. He planned his campaign discreetly, and in a week was married to the girl of his heart, in the indissoluble formula of the Greek Church. The ceremony ended, he took train incognito with his wife, and at the frontier sent cards to his family. The Czar instantly sent couriers after him, ordering him to return, but on foreign territory the Prince is his own master, and cannot be compelled to return, as in the good old times, when if one King didn't help another he had to fight. During the autumn and early winter the Duke has been touring with his wife, bringing up finally in Dresden, where, within a week, they have taken a modest villa on Berg Strasse and gone to housekeeping in a charmingly simple way.

Dresden aristocracy was in a fever over the arrival, when it was known that the Grand Duke was really here—a fact first made known by the presence of fifty trunks belonging to the Princess at the Hotel Bellevue. Official Dresden held aloof. It must first be seen what the King would do and say. The King of Saxony is a particular person. So far as power goes he is not great. Saxony has perhaps three millions of people, but what the kingdom lacks in the prestige of power it makes up in the stiffness, exclusiveness, and prodigious punctilio of the court. A left-handed recognition was finally accorded the runaway. The Grand Chamberlain called on the Grand Duke. There was nothing said about the Grand Duchess, mind you. Alexis refused to be seen on such terms. He had sent his cards to the King, as is the custom of Princes arriving in the dominion of friendly potentates, and the Grand Chamberlain, should have brought cards from the Queen as well as the King. A truce was patched up by the King calling in person, the young people capturing him by their youth and good looks.

THOSE MARRIED LIFE.

Meantime the young people enjoy burgher life very evidently. They ride about and walk about when the weather permits, and look as happy as the fabled doves. The cares of the household don't seem to trouble Mrs. Alexis. She comes out in charming Parisian costume daily, her golden hair hanging over her shoulders in girlish carelessness. With light blue eyes and creamy complexion she looks hardly seventeen, and is only nineteen, while the prince is twenty-four. The Russian Court has been doing everything to drive the young man home, where the prodigal's chimney may be set in motion to smooth the marriage. Requests have been handed on all foreign governments to refuse the Grand Duke official recognition while under the ban of the Czar. There is almost an insuperable difficulty, however, in the way to an annulment of the marriage, as the Greek Church allows no divorce. It is supposed that the Czar, as the head of the church, will take the responsibility of declaring the rite void, if he can bring his son to consent, but even this power is held in debate by those who understand the relations of the Church to the State in Russia.

The family of Mrs. Alexis are enormously rich, and if yearnings for place do not come to the young man, he need have no misgivings for the future. His father-in-law gives the bride a colossal dowry, and, so far as money goes, the match might rejoice the most worldly of parents. Even in the event of a reconciliation, the wife cannot be received according to her husband's rank at the Imperial Court, an obstacle which would be apt to keep the couple in seclusion, unless they can make up their minds to the annoyances which the Marquis of Lorne's marriage has brought upon him. All things considered, as the thing stands, the Grand Duke, even without a formal reception into the imperial family, has, as chessmen say, the best of the board.

In business matters to-day, there is no important change to note. Monetary matters move on quietly, though the heavy remittances to San Francisco and the East have doubtless much reduced the surplus available for funds in this market. From a San Francisco exchange of March 27th, we learn that a remarkable state of things exists there in the continued removal of vast quantities of gold and silver coin cast by rail, and more recently silver bullion is being drawn to New York to a considerable extent for coinage in the Philadelphia mint. Since January 1st the gold coin shipments to New York by the Central Pacific amount to $8,800,000, and the official record of exports of treasure from that port, including overland shipments, aggregates $12,000,000, exclusive of considerable sums sent east clandestinely through the United States mails and as freight by rail. This large drain since January exceeds that for same time last year by $3,200,000, and while the loss of this large sum of coin is felt, yet there is no great scarcity of the circulating medium; yet savings banks have taken advantage of the scarcity to advance rates on loans upon real estate to 9@12 per cent. per annum. Yet the bank rate is confined upon short call loans at 1@1¼ per month. There is no scarcity of money for legitimate business purposes. Everything seems to jog along smoothly in commercial and financial circles. No failures or suspensions, yet there appears to be no disposition shown to speculate in stocks or merchandise to any great extent. The very high gold premium in New York is a disturbing element on this coast, as well as at the East, and must continue to restrict speculation upon this coast.

Crop Prospects.

The time has come when we begin to hear speculations as to the prospects of the crops for 1875. From those who are presumed to be posted will regard to matters of this character we hear two different accounts of the English crops, one that while the crops are hardly as good as last year, and the prospect has been somewhat damaged by cold weather in the months of February and March, it is expected that the yield will fall but little short of average. Another account is that the acreage is very large, and prospects fair for a full yield, if not, an abundant harvest.

In California during the first three weeks in March there were various reports concerning the prospects for good crops and abundant harvests. The wind from the north prevailed to a considerable extent. Rain has been greatly needed, and just at this hour it came, if not in great abundance, sufficient to insure a new life to the growing crops. Our news from all parts of the interior of that State is to the effect that heavy showers had fallen.

In our own State the news reaches us that a much smaller proportion of the wheat sowed last fall was killed by the freeze than was feared at first, and the plant not killed is looking well. A much larger acreage is sowed this spring than usual, and if our crops seldom fail, we may calculate on about an abundant harvest as ordinary.

Shipping Intelligence.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS.

At the Oregon State Fair, recently held at Salem, Mr. E. Smith was awarded the First Premiums on an Open and also on a Top Buggy. The latter was built from a design published in the June number of The Carriage Monthly, styled "Monitor Piano-Top Buggy," and elicited much admiration.—The Philadelphia Carriage Monthly.

Mr. E. SMITH, of Portland, has on exhibition at the State Fair two Buggies, both Open and Top, and certainly exhibits as good workmanship as can be found on the Coast, while several very important improvements have been added, especially in hanging the same so as not to weaken the axles, by putting the bolts through the same. The commendable enterprise that Mr. Smith has displayed, we understand, is being carried out in our city. He will be awarded the first Premium.—Oregonian.

Mr. E. SMITH, Carriage Maker, of Portland, exhibited one Open and one Covered Buggy upon the Fair Grounds, which deserve special mention. These Carriages are especially light and durable, and those in need of such a vehicle would do well—should call upon him before purchasing elsewhere. Of course Mr. Smith bore off the blue ribbons.—New Northwest.

Mr. E. SMITH, Carriage Maker, corner of Front and Jefferson streets, took two Premiums at the State Fair for First-Class Buggies. This speaks well for his workmanship and is a credit to Portland.—Pacific Christian Advocate.

HOME MANUFACTURE.—Mr. E. Smith, Carriage Maker, of this city, has some splendid Vehicles on exhibition at the Fair.—Temperance Sun.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and Mandrake with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they diseases and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Ulcers and Sores, Scrofulous Affections, Liver Complaint, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side and Head, Female Weaknesses, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, Irregularities, Suppression and all the distressing Diseases, Dropsies, Tetter, Erysipelas, Scald Head, Ringworm, Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, General Debility, With their departure health returns.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching, and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purpose."

Buckingham's Dye,

FOR THE WHISKERS.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade to brown or black at discretion. Its easily applied, being in one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.
